An interesting letter has been received by his family from Sr. Firefighter Wm. C. Drury, who is serving in Britain. Sr. Firefighter Drury, is a former Newmarket boy. His mother, Mrs. W. Drury, now resides in Toronto. His wife also resides in Toronto.

"Thought perhaps you might like to hear how things are on this side of the pond, so here goes," he says. "We had our station officially opened by the Duchess of Kent, so everything is hunky-dory now. It apparently needed a little bit of blue blood to make it aristocratic, which it very much is.

"It is very nice inside, with the front part naturally for the ten trucks, or 'appliances' over here, to anyone who might ask. The rear has a heating plant, offices, showers and toilets and a big recreational room with a large kitchen for our use while on duty. It has the Devon coat of arms with the N. F. S. badge on one side and our crest on the other. This is above the two centre doors and the crests take up about five or six square feet. We have people coming every day to see it, as it is the best station in the whole west of England.

"Right now we are in the middle of what is called a refresher course, so that we are right up to scratch at all times. The course lasts for three weeks and we are being marked for

DAVIS LEATHER TAKE AWAY ANOTHER HARDBALL VICTORY

Davis Leather took momentarily undisputed possession of first place in the Newmarket hardball league on Monday night when they pounded out their second victory of the season over the Office Specialty nine.

The final score was Davis 11, Specialty 6. This win gave the leathermen three wins and no losses. Bill Hopper pitched the whole game for the Specialty and, although pounded hard, turned in a creditable chore. Oliver Gould started on the mound for the leathermen but was relieved in the fifth inning by Bob Peters.

The Davis boys started the first inning by scoring two runs. Then they produced five in the second, two in the third and two more in the fifth.

The Specialty got four runs in the third when their manager, Ben Wilson, dropped a home run over the 26-foot right field fence, with the bases loaded. Pal-mateer, Blight and Gould scored ahead of him. Their other two runs came in the fifth.

Ernie Bennett made his bow as umpire-in-chief and handled a good game. The fans and the players were quite pleased with the way he handled the job. A regrettable incident happened in the fourth inning when two of the players came to blows over a play at third base. A little more common sense on both their parts would have helped.

Neither one of them was damaged in the fracas. Monday night must have been the night for blows, as two people in the crowd were hit by batted balls. One of them got a nasty crack in the forehead. The other got it in the shoulder. Catcher "Shorty" Turan of the tanners also got a painful crack on the fingers from a foul tip.

WAR PICTURES USED TO GATHER SALVAGE

War pictures are being shown in the town hall, Newmarket, on Friday at 8 p.m., as a salvage show.

The pictures show fighting in China, the commando attack on Narvik, fighting on the Russian front, the German battleships, Gneisenau and Scharnhorst, running the British blockade in the English channel, the London blitz and many other action pictures, some of which were seized on German ships en route to South America.

The admission to see these pictures is two pounds of fat or one automobile tire or tube, or ten pounds of metal (tin cans, galvanized tin or tube, not accepted). All these salvage materials are sold to be urgently needed, especially for the manufacture of explosives.

"LEFTY" NEWBOLD BATTERED FROM THE MOUND BY TANNERY

Military Camp, mighty conquerors of the Office Specialty hardballers by a score of 23-4 last week, were thrown for a loss when they engaged the Davis Leather nine on Thursday evening.

In a five-inning game, which was called by Umpire Langton on account of darkness, the leathermen emerged with an 8-3 decision. The crowd which attended the game received quite a jolt.

The Davis boys went on the field with a determination to win and southpaw Bob Peters turned in one of the best performances of his career by setting down the Camp entry with only six hits. Five of these hits and two runs came in the first inning. The Camp entry were able to nick his delivery for only two more hits in the other four innings.

One of these was a home run in the fifth inning by Buchowsky, pint-sized third-baseman of the Strigley St. boys. While the Camp were not having much luck with Peters, the leathermen were steadily coming away at the southpaw slants of "Lefty" Newbold.

They managed to secure two runs in the first, two in the third and finally drove "Lefty" to the showers with a four-run burst in the fourth.

Owens, a righthander from the north country, replaced him on the mound. The leathermen managed to get only one hit from him in two innings.

TWO $10 GIFTS OPEN GREEK RELIEF FUND

When aggression came to Greece, the people resisted, and, after success against the Italians, went down before German might, in spite of the help of their British allies.

They made their contribution to the ultimate United Nations victory, and now they are paying heavily. Starvation is taking a daily toll of men, women and children in Greece. Conditions are pitiful. Those once proud people look in garbage cans. It is said, for morsels of food.

The mayor, Dr. L. W. Dales, as chairman, and H. E. Lambert, as treasurer, are appealing to the people of Newmarket to give the Greeks a little mark of appreciation and help.

Dr. C. C. Richardson opened the fund with a splendid gift of $10. Alex. Georgas, Newmarket restaurant proprietor, has added another $10. That is a fine start.

Mr. Lambert, the town clerk's office, or The Era and Express office will be glad to accept gifts, and amounts from 25 cents up will be welcome.

PREPARE FOR ANOTHER YEAR FOR CHILDREN

NEWMARKET MAN SETS ONTARIO ATTENDANCE RECORD

An outline "of what we do to help the underprivileged children of Newmarket, Britain and Russia" was given by President Frank Bowser at the annual ladies' night of the Newmarket Lions club at Pickering College on Monday evening.

Mr. Bowser listed the following expenditures during the past year: $275 for boys' and girls' work; $350 for Christmas baskets; $70 for dental cases; grants to Citizen's band, bugle band, Soldier-Citizen club, Hospital for Sick Children, Toronto, Ontario Society for Crippled Children; $325 of Lions club park; $325 on a model and tonal cases; $480 to Lions British Child War Victims' fund; $250 to Red Cross Society.

"We have a Lions club park, second to none in Canada," said Mr. Bowser. "We have spent the money on the park this year under the chairmanship of Alex. Belugin. We have just installed a nice bridge over the creek, and we are going to put in some more. We have placed picnic tables there."

Concerning the tonsil and adenoid cases, Mr. Bowser said: "Doctors charge very small fees, and with their co-operation we have been able to look after all tonsil and adenoid cases that have been brought to us."

Mr. Bowser said that $120 would look after a homeless British child for one year. "It gives me great pleasure to be able to say that the Newmarket Lions club has looked after four children this past year."

Mr. Bowser said that the Lions carnival last year netted $2,059, and the white elephant sale $345.

"As the Lions club and work prosper, so will the citizens," District Secretary Bruce Malcolm, Toronto, complimented the club on the "very fine accounting."

"Having regard for membership and the size of the community, you just about lead the procession," Mr. Malcolm said. "Twenty members out of 50, or 40 percent, have a perfect attendance. That is a fine record."

Mr. Malcolm then called upon the "100 percenters." "H. E. Lambert is entering his 19th year of 100 percent attendance. I know a Lion who has 17 years, but I know no other Lion in Ontario who (Page 8, Col. 6)

Curtail Credit And Deliveries, Shorten Store Hours, Urged

Newmarket Merchants Organize Following Address By Wartime Prices Representative

Organize and present a united front, to the public on the one hand, and the wartime prices and trade board on the other, was the advice of J. W. MacLeod, representative of the board, at a meeting of Newmarket, Aurora and district merchants in the Newmarket town hall on Tuesday evening.

Councillor Frank Bowser, Newmarket, presided over the meeting.

A retail merchants' association in each community is a necessity in war-time, Mr. MacLeod said. The wartime prices and trade board will recognize an association and listen to its representations, in a way it cannot listen to an individual, said Mr. MacLeod.

"Shorten store hours, reduce credit and curtail deliveries, in order to cut overhead," was Mr. MacLeod's advice, and a retail merchants' organization was needed to carry out these recommendations.

Mr. MacLeod, in a detailed review of the retail merchants' war-time problems, warned that, due to rationing and curtailed supplies of goods, "pilferage is on the increase."

Merchants should not open themselves to prosecution by obliging customers who have forgotten their ration books. They should reduce their costs by asking customers to carry their own parcels.

In the past merchants had wasted a good deal of money on advertising in programs and folders that had no bona fide distribution, he said. The merchant would advertise in some folder and then find them dumped in a gutter.

"Whatever types of advertising you are using, sport programs or newspaper or whatever they may be, take the one that is giving you the most coverage and use it," said Mr. MacLeod.

He recalled a big firm which used to do a big business, and a lot of advertising, and it came to the conclusion: "We don't have to advertise. We have all the business we can do." Mr. MacLeod said: "That firm has little business today. Occasionally you see little advertisements which it publishes."

"Follow the example of the firms which today are advertising to the public that they have nothing to sell, but that they will be back after the war."

"There is something about your business that the public doesn't know. I suggest that you keep your name before the public."

Mr. MacLeod advised that merchants should be careful to keep records, and not to try to run their businesses without the help of records for comparison.

"You are going to have $300 to $400 million less civilian goods to sell this year. Cut your overhead in every way you can."

Newmarket Car Stolen From City Parking Lot

J. E. Nesbitt, former mayor of Newmarket and well-known General Motors and implements dealer, suffered a possible loss of about $1,000 last week.

Mr. Nesbitt, with Mrs. Nesbitt and Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Little, was attending a Toronto theatre last Wednesday night and left his car, a 1939 Dodge sedan, in the parking lot north of the theatre.

Mr. Nesbitt had locked the car but the attendant told him that he must leave the key, so that the car could be moved. The attendant said that he would be there until 11 o'clock.

Mr. Nesbitt came out at 10.45, and neither car nor attendant was there. The attendant was subsequently questioned by the police but no information about the car was secured.

Mr. Nesbitt lost in addition to the car about $75 worth of new car parts he had purchased in the city, and Mrs. Nesbitt lost her spring coat.

While it is considered likely that the appearance of the car will be altered, the car was dark blue, license 97K12, serial 9487346, engine 61301808.

The car was uninsured for theft.

ECONOMIC DEMOCRACY

The Barrie Examiner says: "George Keen, veteran general secretary of the Co-operative Union of Canada, writes the Brantford Expositor against the attempt of the socialists to link up their fantastic theories with the perfectly sound idea that individuals may organize for the co-operative sale or purchase of goods—as free enterprises, taking the usual risks of profit or loss."

But when did co-operatives become "perfectly sound"? The Financial Post regards co-operatives as the enemy of other forms of private business. In fact, the Post has more to say against co-operatives than it has against the Ontario Hydro-Electric, a publicly-owned enterprise. The only Post criticism of the Ontario Hydro-Electric that we are conscious of is that it should pay the same taxes that a privately-owned enterprise would pay.

Haven't co-operatives and public ownership a good deal in common? Isn't the one as bad or as good as the other? Don't both comply with the socialist ideal of operation for use rather than profit? The profits of a co-operative go to the customers. The profits of public ownership, in the case of the Ontario Hydro-Electric, go back to the customers in lower selling prices.

Western Canada has publicly-owned telephone systems. Canada has a publicly-owned radio system. Canada has a publicly-owned railway system, making money at the present time, but ordinarily losing money. Canada has publicly-owned air-lines, making money now and likely to make money for a long time to come. Toronto has a publicly-owned street railway system making big money just now, and likely to make money at any time. Yonge St. municipalities from Richmond Hill south to Toronto own an electric railway, which lost money for years, but is now returning a handsome profit. Private enterprise would not have kept this railway going, but now, with other forms of transportation restricted, those served are mighty glad that they carried this utility in its dog days.

How is it possible to distinguish co-operatives, however sound they may be, from other "socialist" enterprises? "Socialist" means that an enterprise has been "socialized" or converted to the use of the public, and anyone who cares to join a co-operative can share in its patronage dividends. How is it possible to condemn wholesale public ownership enterprises?

The argument is made that because a public ownership enterprise can draw on the public treasury to cover deficits it does not go out of business, as it should if it is inefficient, by the jungle law of the survival of the fittest. No doubt it is a good law when it eliminates unneeded businesses, but it would never eliminate a privately-owned monopoly and it should not eliminate a publicly-owned monopoly. The privately-owned monopoly would increase its charges to the public or seek a government subsidy. The publicly-owned monopoly does the same.

Isn't it a good idea to judge each business on its merits, without making sweeping generalizations and rulings for or against public ownership, co-operatives or private enterprise? Why do we have to pigeon-hole ourselves as "capitalists" or "socialists"? The most ardent capitalist believes in government operation of the mails and highways. The most ardent socialist believes that he should have the right to deny himself today so that he may enjoy himself tomorrow.

Those island-isolated English, in their march toward political democracy, "broadened down from precedent to precedent." They took things as they came. Free schools, public provision of education, came as a shock to Britain's nineteenth century conservatives, but they didn't feel that public operation of the educational system had turned them into socialists. It was just a change that followed the extension of voting privileges to the masses. "We must educate our masters!" they said.

Prime Minister Winston Churchill sets us all a good example. He is no socialist, but he is associating in his cabinet with those who do so regard themselves. It is broadening him. He is ready to welcome changes that are repugnant to many of those who are associated with him in the Conservative party. Mr. Churchill says that after the war public ownership and private enterprise must advance side by side. There is room for both.

And if one proves superior to the other, the other will eventually drop out. That is the British way of doing things. Britain doesn't do things the Russian way—become communist and then gradually de-socialize until a satisfactory balance of private and public enterprise is reached. Britain goes slowly, always behind the times, never ahead of them, always forward, never backward.

It is not sensible for Canadians to regard the British Labor party as something fine, and the Canadian C.C.F. as something terrible. Every democratic country needs a radical party, just as every country needs a conservative party. We need the one to urge us on, and the other to caution us, "Not too fast." It was Disraeli and the British Conservative party who passed the sweeping Reform bill of 1867 which Carlyle called "shooting Niagara," but it was Gladstone and the Liberals who prepared the way for that revolution. And it was the same Gladstone who as a university student had denounced the Reform bill of 1832 as destined to change the form of government and subvert the social order. Gladstone began his parliamentary career in 1833 as a Conservative member for a "rotten borough" which the Reform bill of 1832 had overlooked.

An historian says that Gladstone came under the influence of Sir Robert Peel, a "conservative by instinct, who possessed the courage required to be inconsistent, the wisdom to change as the world changed." Perhaps Winston Churchill will prove another Gladstone. Churchill began as a Liberal, became a Conservative, and may yet conclude his career as a Laborite.

Let us in Canada remember the words of Gladstone, when the Liberals' moderate Reform bill of 1866 (a reactionary measure compared with the one passed under the Conservative ministry in 1867) was defeated: "You cannot fight against the future. Time is on our side."

The 19th century brought political democracy (except for women's suffrage). The twentieth century is likely to bring economic democracy. The one follows the other as inevitably as free schools followed electoral reform in Britain. Liberals passed the Education Act of 1870 and Conservatives the Education Act of 1902 in Britain. Liberals and Conservatives are likely to pass the measures which will bring Canada economic democracy but the C.C.F. is providing the ideas and creating the public demand for these changes just as the Chartists, the Radicals and the Labor party have done in Britain.

WHAT OTHERS THINK

THE SOCIALIZATION OF BUSINESS

(Bowmanville Canadian Statesman)

Perhaps it will be news to many of our readers that many of Canada's socialists of the C.C.F. party plan to socialize the bulk of business in Canada, some of it immediately, if they get power, some of it by a process which they call "gradualism." When our readers hear or read from C.C.F. authorities that they intend to nationalize all the privately-owned radio stations, take over the insurance companies, wipe out the investment business and socialize the banking system, we ask them to bear in mind that this is no isolated item of policy. It is part of the piece. The socialists aim at taking over everything in the shape of business—and perhaps in the shape of land also, but we shall reserve that for another article.

This is the third of our series in which we seek to analyze and present to our readers the essentials—or as we see them, the weaknesses—of socialism as advocated by the leading authorities of the C.C.F. The C.C.F. aims to bring about socialism in Canada. In two books, "Social Planning for Canada" and "Democracy Needs Socialism," they have laid down the outline and the basis for the socialist policy they hope to apply in Canada. They have gone into considerable detail about it.

They say, for instance, that it will be necessary to nationalize communications—which means telegraph, telephone, radio and railways. Newspapers, of course, are commonly regarded as "communications." If you control the newsprint supply and you control the means of transmitting news, that is to say, the telephone, the telegraph and the radio, you certainly control "communications" insofar as the press is concerned.

But that is by no means all. They propose to take over all basic industry. They propose to take over and nationalize, if they gain office, all export and import trade and to operate it through government commissions. They propose to nationalize the whole field of finance and insurance and investment business—all with a view to abolishing profits, do not forget.

And after all, what is profit? The working man who saves a few dollars and invests them in Victory bonds or buys a home is investing the profits arising from his labor. The small merchant has saved up some money and has used it to open up, say, a grocery store or a candy shop or a dry-goods shop. He is investing the profits of his labor in the hope of obtaining for himself a little more profit from his investment in business. The socialists plan to place all internal trade under a re-organized system of distribution, as they call it, conducted by an "internal trade commission." Every business will be regulated. Planning, operating and regulation are the three terms stressed in this socialist literature, as the means for dealing with business. They say: "There is no half-way house between capitalism and the Co-operative Commonwealth."

If man's freedom to do business under the law, in the way that he chooses, and to look after his own affairs and to store up a little profit for himself, is to be removed from him where is the incentive to adventure into those realms of invention in business which serve to create more and more employment?

While the editor is on the subject of nationalization of all of these things, let us look at the place where the socialists say they are going to make their start. They are going to begin with finance. They are going to take over the banks, the insurance companies and the investment business generally. Why? Because they are badly run, non-competitive, contrary to the public interest? No, not at all. They admit that all of these institutions are excellently run. They say that the current criticism of banks, for instance, is piousness. That is the word they use in their own literature. They say these institutions are reasonably competitive, that they do not make undue profits, that they operate under government supervision and regulation, that they are under constant inspection. Why, then, do they wish to take them over?

They give their own answer. Just this: "It is worthy of final emphasis that a unified and socialized banking system would be useless taken by itself. Unless they are part of a general scheme of economic planning the banks might as well be left alone. So long as the means of production generally remain in private hands, a government-owned banking system would merely provide one more battleground for the struggles of private, acquisitive interests. The essential reason for expecting social advantage from a nationalized banking system lies in the uses to which it could be turned in the field of "economic planning."

They explain elsewhere in the book that the "economic planning" they mean necessarily includes taking over all essential industry and external trade and the control of internal trade by the internal trade commission referred to above. Beginning with their own starting point, namely, the proposed "socialization" of finance and the investment business, one could easily liken it to the Hitler system of "one at a time" which has proved so deadly in Europe. And certainly any of our people who might not bestir themselves in opposition to any sudden political movement to nationalize any given interests, or group of interests, would be there with bells on if they realized that their own business is equally affected and that the proposed socialization of one thing or another by the C.C.F. is merely, as we have said, a part of the piece.

Now it has been said by the C.C.F. people that they will compensate the present owners for any property or business interest the new C.C.F. may take over. The editor proposes to deal with this "compensation" in a further article.

SELECTIVE SERVICE

By Isabel Inglis Colville

This war has added some new words or, rather, a new combination of old ones to our language, for our use.

In the first Great War, people entered the army, navy or air force because that particular branch they chose was advertising for more recruits, or maybe because his grandfather or great grandfather had belonged to that branch of the service, and the tales that came down in families emphasized the grandeur and glory of that particular service.

Now men and women joining up have a chance to find the place that they are best fitted for by education and preference to fill. It will mean that the younger men who have gone into the army, those incompletely educated, will emerge from it with, if they have energy and ambition, some specialized form of work at their finger tips.

This is a decided improvement over the last war, when many boys who left half completed, or only started, educational courses behind them to enlist, when they returned had lost the wish for further education.

It has been said that this is an age of specialists, and of course, even in our schools, pupils can specialize to a greater extent than of old. This is all to the good, if it does not go so far that the special shuts out the general and a one-sided race emerges, the citizens of which can only see what they, themselves, are interested in or think essential.

But the theory of selective service is as old as the hills. We, the people, have the privilege of using selective service when we come to elections. THEN is the time when we are really served out because he was selected to serve in country by using the privilege a marvellous capacity. He was with thought, care, prayer and brought up in the house of the foresight.

Excavating for the new high school commenced on Monday and on Wednesday work was begun on the foundation walls.

The Christian church was well filled on Sunday morning in the observance of Children's day. The superintendent, W. R. Travis, presided, and the program was better than usual.

Mrs. W. C. Bogart, who has been in Ottawa for some time, returned home last week.

Cadets Harold Rhinchart and Ernie Doyle, from the Beamsville camp, are home on furlough.

About 600 ministers and laymen were present when the Methodist conference opened in Toronto on Thursday morning. Rev. J. D. Simpson, former pastor in Newmarket, was elected president.

then master of the world. He was brought into contact with great leaders and diplomats; he associated with strategists and makers of empires; and who can say that he did not need every one of the lessons he learned in Pharaoh's household and councils before he finally completed the task assigned him by Jehovah.

Joseph, as a slave in Potiphar's household, learned the ways and customs of the Egyptians. In prison he learned something of their problems, and from his own childhood he remembered the necessity for farmers to economize and to store up food. When famine came Joseph was prepared—he was an authority on economics, on conservation and on distribution and lend lease.

There are innumerable other instances in the Old and New Testaments of selective service—St. Paul, with his knowledge of law and logic, St. Peter, with his driving energy, St. John, with his far-seeing, visionary, even prophetic temperament—each one fitting into the niche assigned him in the new order, with a perfect fitness that only their Creator could visualize.

And in modern times, who can deny that men like Churchill and Roosevelt have not been selected by a higher power than we, the people? Each one had a background, training and character, which seemed, from among all men, to single them out for exactly the roles they were to fill.

Yes, selective service is as old as the hills, and as modern as today. We, the people, have the privilege of using selective service when we come to elections. THEN is the time when we are really served out because he was selected to serve in country by using the privilege a marvellous capacity. He was with thought, care, prayer and brought up in the house of the foresight.

Widespread evacuation of civilians is taking place in the Ruhr cities which have received such a pounding from the Allied air force.

The German air force has been on the defensive and sent only a few raiders over two English southeast coast towns in the last week. No casualties were reported. Meanwhile the R.A.F. piled destruction again in the Ruhr valley, smashing the steel and communications centre of Oberhausen.

Allied planes dropped tons of bombs on the island of Pantelleria in the Sicilian Strait on Friday morning. Blasted into ruins, the Italian garrison surrendered rather than submit to more bombing. Quickly following the surrender of Pantelleria came the lightning fall of Lampedusa. Third island to fall into the Allied hands was Linosa. The small garrison at Linosa surrendered, grateful for having been spared the ordeal of bombardment from the Allied air force.

51,321 individual shareholders own Canada's Chartered Banks. The average holding is 28 shares. Most of these shareholders are Canadians.

The wide distribution of bank ownership is indicated by the fact that 36,574 individuals, living in all parts of Canada, hold shares in the Chartered Banks of Canada. Of the remaining shareholders, 8,987 live elsewhere in the British Empire.

Some further facts about Canada's Banks:

There are 4,369,740 savings deposit accounts in the Chartered Banks of Canada, averaging $391 each. Safeguarding the funds of depositors is a primary function of commercial banking. Banks keep themselves in such a position that anybody going to the bank to withdraw his savings can get his money; Banks, like any other business, exist because they provide service which a community needs and is willing to pay for at a rate which will yield a reasonable return.

Every day, bank loans are helping Canadians in all walks of life and in all parts of Canada to profit from their individual enterprise and industry.

Gathering the Sport Facts

With Toronto's four big race tracks in full operation at this time and Hamilton and Fort Erie standing by, ready to operate, many of the amateur gamblers are spending their spare moments in the century-old pastime of picking the winners.

Despite the fact that millions of people all over the world spend a great deal of time on selections, we know of only one man who can actually prove that over a period of years he got ahead of the horses. This man was Chicago O'Brien. Chicago O'Brien was a bricklayer by trade and started picking the winners purely for the fun of it.

He once received a $1,000 premium for a certain job which he had completed and one of his friends persuaded him to invest it at the races. It proved to be just that, an investment, for him. He wagered it on two different horses at Belmont track and both were winners. Before he was through he had run this small stake up to a total of $1,500,000. O'Brien always played the races three ways. Any wager he made and lost he always paid off.

It was seldom this quiet, conscientious man lost. His word was as good as a government bond. O'Brien died in harness in a hotel room at Saratoga Springs. When he dropped dead, he left the next day's selections on a table right in front of him. If he had a system for beating the horses, he took it with him.

Before June 30, all consumers (including farmers) who store meat in lockers, must declare in writing to the nearest Branch of the Ration Administration, the quantity of rationed meat they had in storage on May 27th, over and above the allowance of 8-lbs. per person in the household. For list of rationed meats see Meat Coupon Value Chart delivered in all homes, or get a copy from your Local Ration Board. Unrationed meats do not have to be declared.

Written declarations must be accompanied by sufficient Coupons from the ration books of the locker user, and his household to cover the quantity of the declared stored meat, at the rate of 1-Coupon for each 2-lbs. of any rationed meat.

Regardless of the amount of meat in storage on May 27th, the number of Coupons to be surrendered by the locker user need not exceed 50% of the total meat Coupons in the possession of himself and his household; that is, not more than 26 Coupons from the book of any one person.

Be a FARM COMMANDO

We can't Fight if We don't Eat!

HELP PRODUCE FOOD FOR VICTORY

PLAN to spend half a day, a day, or several evenings a week on local farms during the hay and harvesting seasons this summer. Join the thousands of Farm Commandos who "close up shop" or lay down their tools to make "raids" into the country and help farmers take their crops from the land.

Farm Commando Brigades are springing up in Chambers of Commerce, Boards of Trade, Service Clubs, Churches and other men's organizations all over Ontario. Townsmen are getting together to make a direct, patriotic contribution to the War Effort by helping to save the crops.

Farm Commandos are paid a minimum of twenty-five cents an hour, and many Commandos contribute these earnings to favourite war charities.

If there is no Farm Commando Brigade forming in your locality, take it up with your own men's organization and get your local Brigade started at once.

Every possible man-hour must be put in during harvesting to prevent irreparable loss of food that is essential to the Allied War Effort and to Canada herself!

Your help is needed—NOW! Volunteer in a Farm Commando Brigade and be ready to help when harvest emergencies arise. For full information, forms, etc., write to Ontario Farm Service Force, Parliament Buildings, Toronto, at once.

SHARON BOYS FORGET

TO BRING GIRL FRIENDS

Gathering at Musselman's Lake on Friday for their annual picnic and dance, York County Junior Farmers saw Unionville take the softball title.

In some parts of the county the boys were able to work on the land and so the afternoon crowd, as was expected, was somewhat smaller than usual.

Four clubs entered teams in the softball tournament for mixed teams and the games were all evenly contested, the final being particularly keen between the Unionville and Vellore clubs. Sharon club was on hand in good number but they neglected to bring their girl friends and so were unable to field a mixed team.

In the first round Vellore defeated Vandroff 11-5, although the game was much closer than the score would indicate. Victoria Square was eliminated in a close hard battle by Unionville 12-11.

The remainder of the afternoon was spent in numerous and varied races and contests.

After supper the winning teams of the afternoon came together to declare the champion. Unionville by a long chance snook run broke the tie in the final frame and won by an 11-10 score.

Later in the evening about 600 filled the floor of the beautiful Cedar Beach pavilion to enjoy the

Whitchurch Organizes

To Use Commandos

On Township Farms

Whitchurch township council will call upon farmers to take advantage of the farm commandos being organized in the township and city to help them through the haying, hoeing and harvesting this summer. At the regular meeting on Saturday Deputy-Reeve L. P. Evans introduced a resolution establishing zones, with a chairman for each, and ex-Reeve Earl Toole as general chairman over the township.

"I think we should take advantage of the offer," said Deputy-Reeve Evans. Councillor Leslie J. Harper strongly backed the idea. In a few weeks Clerk John Crawford will place notices in the local newspapers indicating how to obtain the help, and the conditions that will prevail. It was understood that each farmer would make his own deal with the help obtained, since some city men do not ask pay, while others are out to make a dollar and probably rightfully demand it.

The zones and chairmen were set out in the resolution as follows:

Zone No. 1—Yonge St. to 5th con., south of Aurora sideroad. L. P. Evans, chairman.

Zone No. 2—Aurora road north to townline, Yonge St. to 5th con. L. J. Harper, chairman.

Zone No. 3—5th con. to east townline to Aurora road. E. Logan, chairman.

Zone No. 4—5th con. to east townline, Aurora road to north townline.

School Inspector C. A. Lapp notified the council by letter that arbitrators must be appointed to settle the transfer of school tax paid by Arthur Trent, who wanted to be transferred from S. S. 1, Whitchurch (Hartman), to S. S. 1, King. This course must be followed notwithstanding that both councils previously expressed their approval of the change.

Pat. Murphy was granted $10, and Trabley Hall $20, compensation for sheep killed by dogs. Relief accounts totalling $119.14 were passed, and road accounts $833.27.

Dr. G. W. Williams, M.O.H., strongly recommended that garbage collection be continued at the lake resorts, the question arising because one ratepayer proposed the scheme be abandoned.

A brief session of the court of revision disposed of the one appeal filed against the 1943 assessment by Mr. Longfellow, who has a modern home at the corner of the 5th con. and Markham townline. Assessment of $4,500 was sustained. Assessor Cummings said he raised the assessment for the obvious reason that it was too low.

Reeve George Leary presided over the council and court sittings. All members of the council were present.

Tractor Stalls After

Dragging Driver 50 Feet

Algar Hyslop, Gormley farmer, was dragged about 50 feet after being run down by a tractor and caught up by a cultivator, but the stalling of the engine prevented him from being dragged to serious injury or death.

He lay in the field unconscious for several minutes before walking to a nearby farmhouse for help. Mr. Hyslop was taken to the Toronto General hospital, suffering chest injuries and a severely fractured right elbow.

The accident occurred when Mr. Hyslop stopped to repair the engine of the tractor and the gear accidentally slipped.

Teacher Resigns

After five years as a member of the staff of Aurora high school, in charge of the home economics department, Miss Ruth Kitching has resigned. Miss Kitching is a graduate of Aurora high school and the University of Toronto. All other members of the staff have been re-engaged by the board. Miss Kitching leaves to accept another post.

Don't Count Your Potatoes Before They're

Sprayed, Is "Rep's" Advice To Beginners

That everyone is a potato conscious this year is shown by the number of inquiries being received by Agricultural Representative W. M. Cockburn about treating seed for blight and "what not."

Most of these would-be growers are starting at the wrong end, suggests Mr. Cockburn. Seed cannot be treated to prevent "late blight" but plant only healthy seed.

"This year promises to be an unusually bad year for the flea beetle," said Mr. Cockburn. "This is a small black beetle, about the size of a pin-head, which hops off the plant when you come near it. It damages the plants (also tomatoes and other garden crops) by making small perforation holes in the leaves, seriously reducing yields. They are there now in thousands and potatoes should be dusted or sprayed when not over six inches high."

Mr. Cockburn states that "two

DOWN THE CENTRE

"Ace" Yake, former Aurora softball and hockey goal judge, after a couple of months silence, has finally been heard from. He arrived overseas last week. For the past two years Yake, who has a pretty good nose for sport news, has been one of our regular correspondents, so in due course we presume he'll give us the lowdown on "limpy" sports activities.

Dick Sutton, another Aurora lad, who played softball in the town league for Fleury-Bisell, was another recent arrival in England. He is a brother of Harry and Mickey Sutton, well-known Aurora athletes.

Bradford firemen have just completed their list of officers for the year and the roster reads like a who's who in Bradford sports.

"Dodger" Collings, former ace winger for the Newmarket Redmen and a village councillor, is fire chief. Ben Collings, who used to be field captain and coach for many of the Bradford lacrosse teams, is honorary captain. Harold Boyd, who played on that Aurora hockey team which won rural honours three years ago, is secretary-treasurer. While Ted Gapp, who totes plenty of beef around on the hoof, is captain. Ted is used to play defence and goal in lacrosse. If those fellows are able to move around as fast now as they used to when they were chasing a rubber puck or ball, full fire protection will be afforded. The years have been kindly to all of them.

Anthony Baker, former ace marksman of the Markham junior and intermediate hockey teams, is now completing his final R.C.A.F. course at No. 2 I.T.S. St. Catharines. The boys in the services shift around fast these days.

"Bugs" Hodgins, former Stouffville hardballer, whom we reported a few weeks back as in Toronto with the navy, is now taking his sailing lessons at Calgary.

"Tubby" Barrow, husky Richmond Hill and Aurora junior hockey player, is at Winnipeg with the R.C.A.F. while Tex Lunan, an older former Hill puck-chaser, has arrived overseas. Confidentially, the boys' real names are "Elgin" and "Ronald" respectively, but both prefer their nicknames.

Charlie Smith of Aurora, who has not been having too much success with his mounts this year, is now rounding into top form and a few days ago booted home three wins in one day, which is nifty riding in any company. Smith is also booked to pilot Airplan in all his starts, and right now there are few horses who can stay up with this equine. Smith has a strong following among the turf lovers in North York.

The recent anti-betting legislation enacted by the government at Ottawa, to our way of thinking, is nonsensical to say the least. In England bookmakers are legalized and licensed and the public treasury benefits and those who wager are protected. Here, as long as betting and racing (and the two terms are practically synonymous in North America) is permitted, there are bound to be bookmakers. At the track you can bet legally, away from it you commit a crime if you wager. Looks like the lawmakers are passing up some easy money, and much public inconvenience, as well as doubling police activities by shutting their eyes to the situation and trying to legislate people to goodness.

The bootlegger flourished when prohibition was used, and continues to flourish because of restrictions which, while doubtless needed in many cases, are illogical on the whole. Either racing should be banned and the pari-mutuels too or the whole thing brought out into the light of day and more funds made available for the public treasury.

Larry Smith, who was employed in the bank at Schomberg and featured in the Aurora's York reserve softballers, is now a member of the R.C.A.F. and stationed in Toronto.

Gordon Brown, president of Markham junior hockey club and a real sports booster, has again reached the 250,000 club for the insurance company he represents for the second year in a row.

Related congratulations go to Richmond Hill minor-midget hockeyists who won the King Clancy T.H.L. series. Billy Mundell of Aurora, an up-and-coming all-around youngster who played fine hockey for Aurora juveniles last winter, was a member of the Hill Lions club gave the kids a fine feed with all the trimmings, despite rationing.

"Slaps and Scraps" was a favorite sports column in these pages back over three years ago when "Down the Centre" came on the scene. Ralph Adams, bespectacled Newmarket sports enthusiast, was responsible for the column and did some fine writing, even tho' we couldn't see eye to eye with him on most things, and on one occasion almost got to the feuding stage. Two years ago Ralph dropped out of sports writing but he has again got the yen for writing and has turned up as sports editor of the North Bay Nugget, a mighty fine small city newspaper, which appears each day in tabloid style. Adams' column started to appear on May 19 and is called "Sport Static."

FARMERS

Saving MONEY

Farmers and their families, today, are patriotically saving both money and materials—to provide for their continuing usefulness as suppliers of food to the United Nations, to provide for their own future financial independence AND to buy Victory Bonds and pay Income Taxes.

In common with other Canadians, farmers are carefully saving and salvaging EVERYTHING, because in this total "survival war" all things must be conserved, especially money. Determined, systematic saving by every citizen is part of the national price of VICTORY.

You have our co-operation through the services of Savings Accounts and Banking by Mail (which saves time of coming to town—saves gasoline and tires).

A Savings Account for every member of the family is a sound idea, especially in war times. Write for our folder, "How to Bank by Mail."

dueling game, McCready has been able to attract the public with good, clean, fast, and more scientific than the average and less spectacular.

Earl, however, can hold his own with mat villains if need be, and a non-smoker, and non-drinker, he is in the pink of condition 365 days a year. Once in a while he takes time out to teach Sunday-school, and all in all, is one of the finest sporting characters it has been our pleasure to meet.

Al. Shill, who played hockey for Aurora Ordinance last winter, despite the fact he was a civilian, is turning in some smart softballers these days as a member of Shipbuilders in the Toronto defence league.

Bill Thornton, former Aurora junior hockeyist, who hails from Beeton, is again on the pitching mound for R.C.A.F. fliers at Moncton, N.B., where he was the leading pitcher last year.

Bill Buchanan, former Richmond Hill and Aurora softballer, who recently spent his furlough in the district, is expected to line up with a second air force team in the same circuit. Bill played hockey briefly for Aurora, too, about the same time as Thornton.

Leut. J. Marshall, former executive of the Aurora town hockey Ordinance here, is one of the big shots of the as yet unbeaten Jordan R.C.O.C. team. We saw the Marshall men defeat Howard Leonard's Angus Bombers the other night, and both teams are really keen. Mr. Marshall then donned the mask to umpire a clash between our charges and Camp Hospital, and when the smoke had cleared we found our hopefuls had won out 15-4, thanks to the reinforcements. We are still awaiting word from Aurora Ordinance and Newmarket camp for a game.

Sgt. Ernie White, Richmond Hill, who at 22 was reported missing with the R.C.A.F., has now been listed as "presumed dead" for official purposes. Ernie played junior hockey and juvenile for Richmond Hill a few years back and was a fair performer. His father, a well-known war veteran, is a former secretary of the Richmond Hill club.

J. C. Burns, ace bowler of the district, has been elected president of the Markham bowling club. As near as we can make out, lawn bowling will pretty well be the same this year as last, with all clubs of the district battling for the Mulock cup and holding the usual Wednesday afternoon tournaments. This is one sport that should really boom as a result of the war, and gasoline and pleasure restrictions.

Johnny Coulson, master of Gairlands and former Henley sculler and ex-Canadian champion, expects to return overseas shortly. Long John has already spent two years across the pond.

Ken James, Woodbridge, a former Bradford boy, recently received recognition in the king's birthday list for heroic work in rescuing Ralph Robinson, Woodbridge, from a gravel pit cave-in last year. Ken, while not an outstanding athlete himself, is a brother of "Fat" James and Ernie James. "Fat," as you will recall, is an ex-captain of Aurora junior hockeyists, and Mimco lacrosse team, and Ernie played lacrosse for both Aurora and Bradford. While Ken displays his bravery and presence of mind on the home front, his two brothers are on active service with the Canadian army overseas.

"Red" Frost, former Newmarket and Aurora hockey player, stationed in New Brunswick with the R.C.A.F., is wearing two hooks.

Sorcer lost one of its stalwarts last week with the death of Walter Rolling, for 41 years schoolmaster at Kingshorn. Mr. Rolling was an outstanding player in his earlier days and in fact until his fifties and is said to have played in over 1600 games during his life-time. Not only was he a great player but he coached and encouraged those great King City-Maple teams of two decades ago, as well as giving his pupils a fine grounding in the ethics of real sportsmanship. Of him it may be truly said the world was a better place because of his influence.

Cum Wallington has been re-elected president of the Lake Huron Athletic association. Time was when the sportsmen around King out on a gala field day on July 1 on the Pollatt estate. All that is changed in war years, as the boys turn their energies to events to raise money for war charities. Mr. Wallington, a champion plowman in his day, can be depended upon to give good leadership.

Major Lindsay Robinson, former Aurora basketball star, now with the U.S. army air force, has just completed a special course at Carlisle, Pa. "Whitt" will be in there punching no matter where he may be assigned. North York hardball fans will remember him as one of the brainiest players and nearest fielders ever to compete in district play. He is a former intercollegiate flyweight champion boxer too.

Just Commander Herb Burchall, former Sutton and Uxbridge puck-chaser and baseball player, and hero of British fleet operations in the Mediterranean, is temporarily located now at Halifax, N.S., and has thrown aside rank and taken time out to play first base for the Halifax navy team in the Nova Scotia senior baseball league.

Don not of the week, comes from an American general overseas, from presented boxing awards to the British and American army boxers who clashed in international competition. Says Brigadier-General Daniel Nore: "These contests will no doubt result in plenty of bruises and black eyes, but when they have passed away both forces will work side by side for a final knock-out blow against the Axis."

"WE NOT ONLY HAUL 'EM - WE BUILD 'EM TOO"

ALTHOUGH we, the Canadian railways, are carrying vastly more traffic than at any time in history, we are also building guns and tanks, ships and shells. Our machinery of production hums day and night. Implements of war roll from our plants in steady streams. They're made by the railways... hauled by the railways... the railways of Canada.

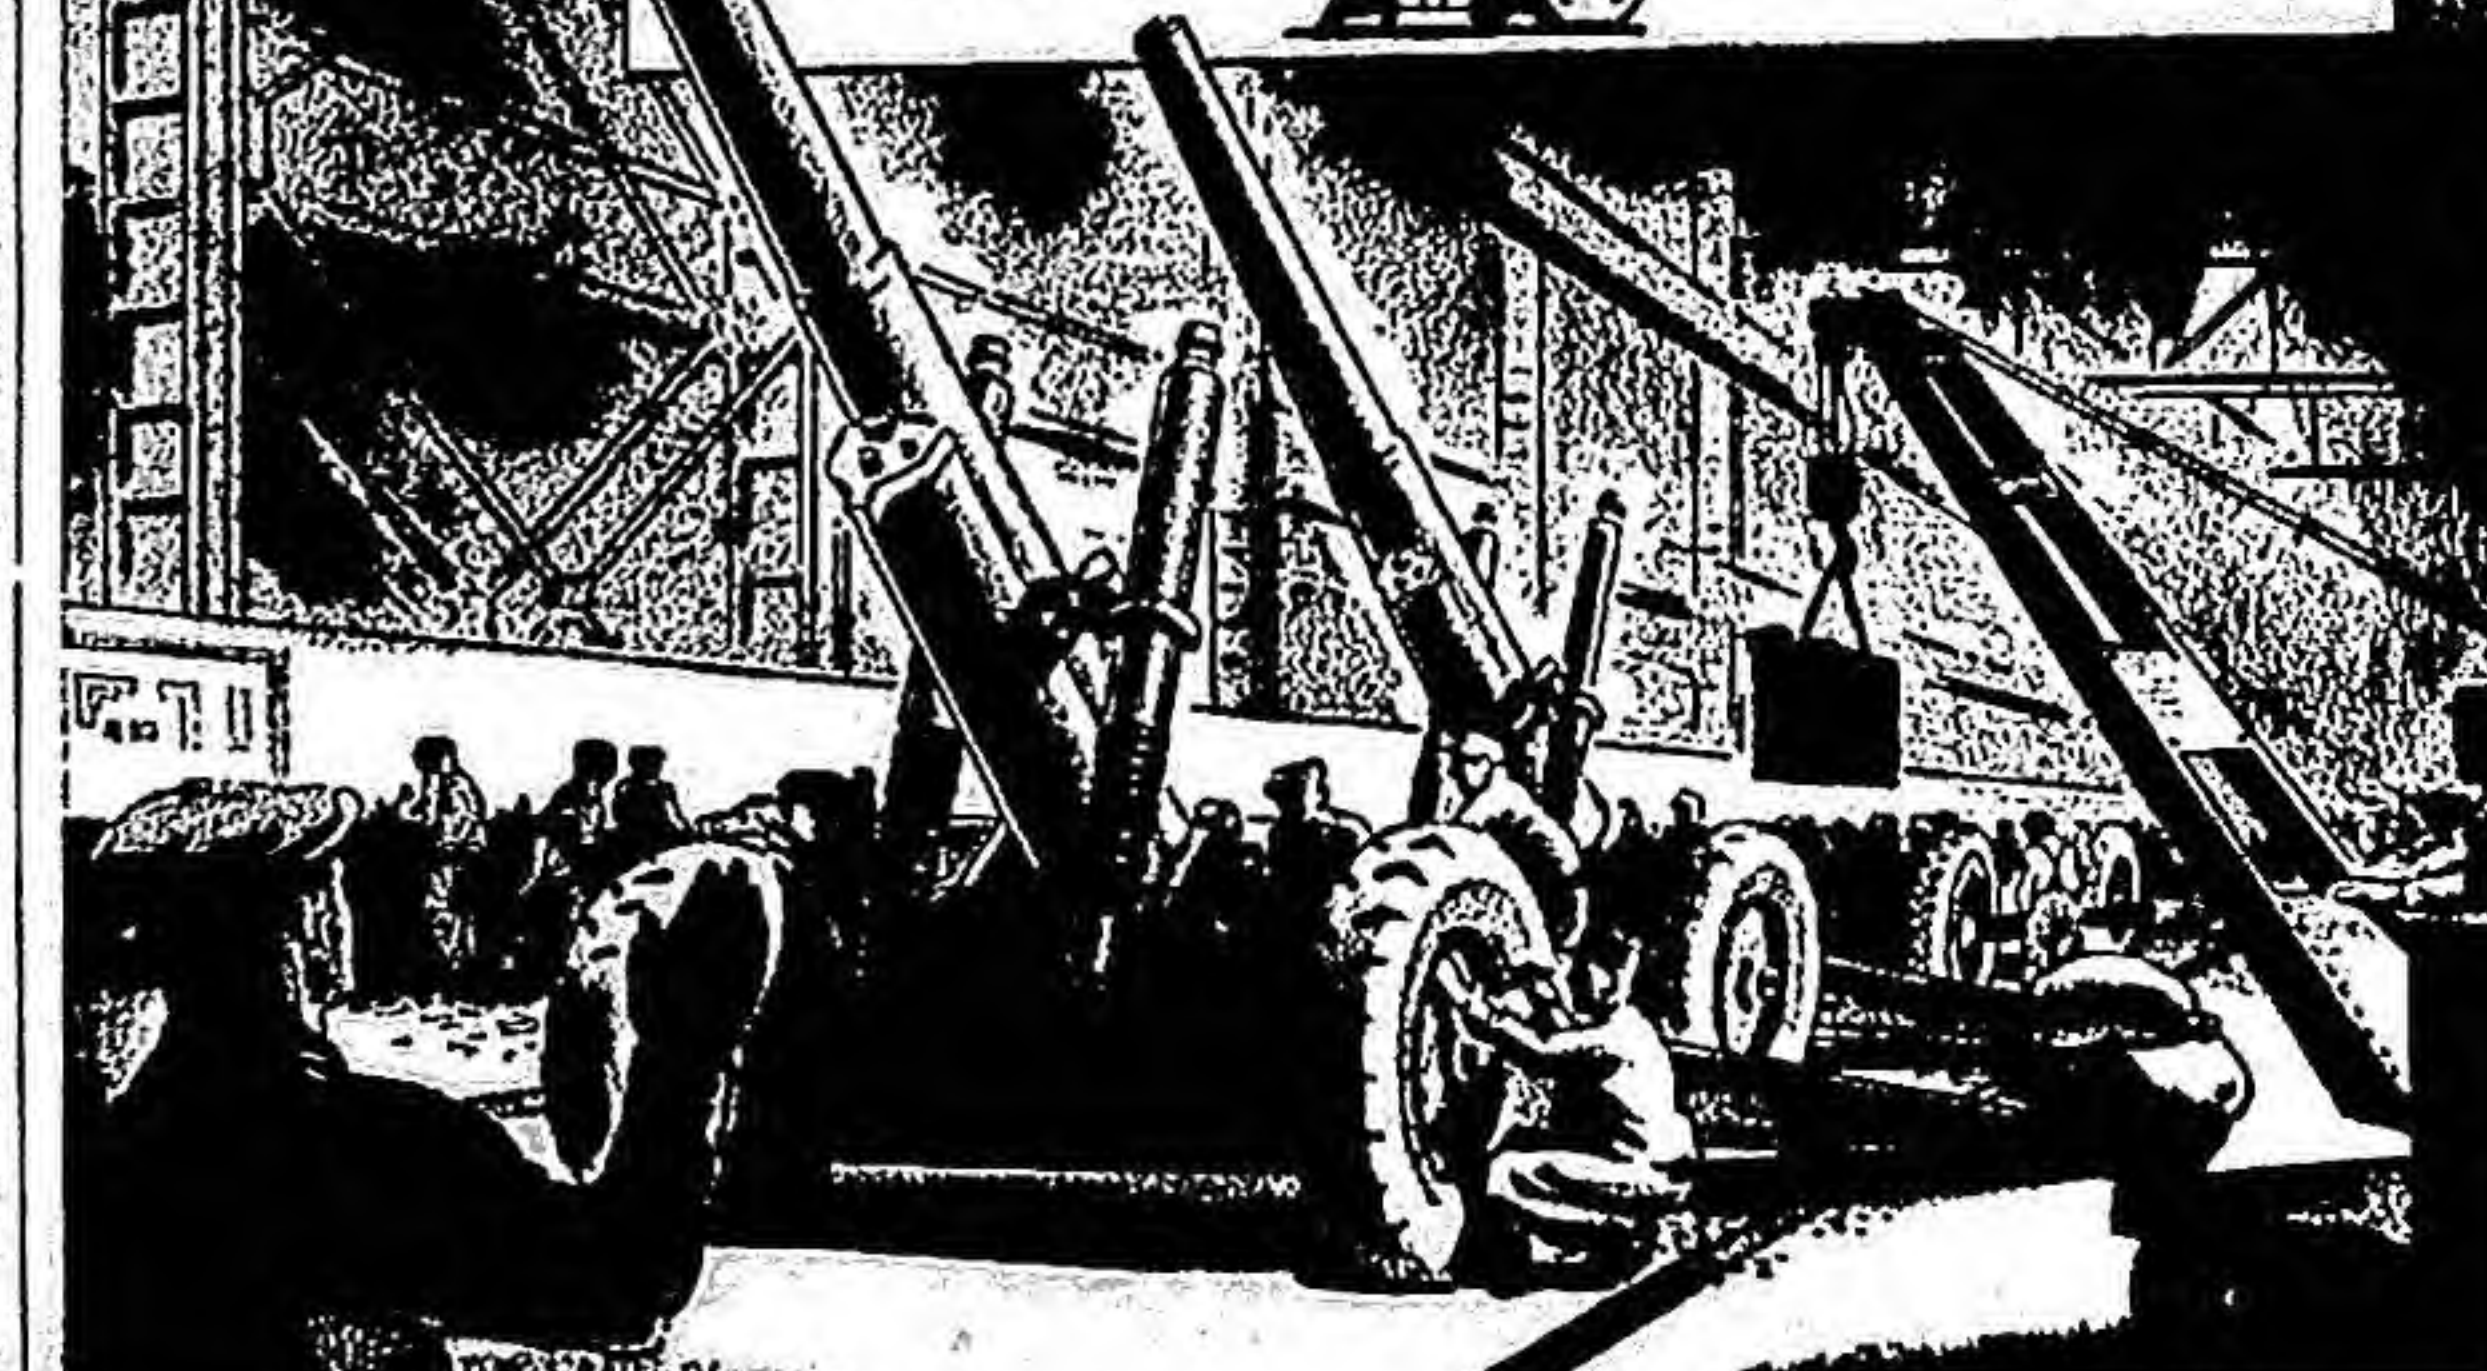

Only your railways, ready and capable of meeting the emergency before it occurred, can handle this double "must"... mass transportation and mass war production.

Your railways met a mighty challenge in Canada's period of construction. They are rendering dual service in War's period of destruction. They will be needed more than ever in the reconstruction period of peace. They will meet that challenge, too!

WILLOW BEACH
The exceptionally fine weather brought a lot of motorists to the lake on Sunday. It looks like a busy summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Harland Huntley motored to Toronto on Monday.
Their daughter, Helen, who has been attending normal school this winter returned with them for the summer holidays.

Charles Martin is still critically ill in Sutton hospital.
A pleasant afternoon was spent at the summer home of Mrs. C.
Smith at Greenwood Lodge on Wednesday. The ladies were knitting and making quilt blocks.
A delightful and dainty lunch was served in the dining-room and a collection was taken for the Willow Beach Boys' Comforts club.

Miss Marie Fenton visited her

POLICE COURT
BEWARE OF CASHING
CHEQUES, IS WARNING

"I hope the papers will give enough publicity to this case so as to give the merchants warning not to cash cheques for strangers," Crown Attorney N. L. Mathews, K.C., commented in York county police court, Newmarket, on Tuesday, when Pte. Gordon McKay, Newmarket military camp, pleaded guilty to three charges of cashing worthless cheques in the amount of ten dollars each.

According to Chief Constable
James Sloss, Newmarket, as a result of information received, he arrested the defendant and took him to the county police headquarters, where in the presence of Constable Edward Major he questioned him and received a statement from him.

"Will you give us the facts in each case?" the crown asked the police officer.
"On Sunday, May 9, Mr. McKay
went to the florist store of Mrs.
Perrin in Newmarket, where he ashed a cheque for ten dollars," testified the officer. "He received the full amount in cash. When questioned he identified the cheque (which was exhibited in court) as being the one that he had passed."

"Did he say why he cashed the cheques?" asked the crown.

"He questioned him why he cashed them and he said that a chap was supposed to put $30 on the Toronto bank for him," replied the witness.

"He also admitted cashing a cheque for $10 at the feed store of A. E.
Starr."

"Did he buy anything there?"
"No, he received all cash."

Asked by the crown if Mr.
McKay had any account in the banks on which the cheques were drawn, Chief Sloss said the defendant had not accounts at either bank.

J. R. Knowles, Aurora merchant, told his worship that he had cashed
a cheque for $10 for the defendant.

"He said that he had money in the bank in Aurora," stated Mr.
Knowles.

"Did the accused buy anything?"
asked the crown.

"No, I just cashed the cheque," replied the witness.

Appearing for the defendant,
Lieut. W. E. Lindsey told his worship that this was the defendant's first appearance in court and that during his six weeks in camp had had a good record, with the exception of one offence, that of being away without leave. He added that Mr. McKay had about two more weeks to spend at the Newmarket camp before going to advanced military training and thence overseas, where he was anxious to go.

"I am going to remand you in custody of the army officer for one week and see what results that has been made in that time," Magistrate W. E. McIlveen told the accused.

Pleading guilty to a charge of stealing $16 from the till of an Aurora business man, an 18-year-old Newmarket youth was given a suspended sentence and placed on probation for one year.

Chief Sloss testified that on June 1, as a result of a complaint, he searched the youth and found on him a marked two-dollar bill which had been in the till. He said that the youth made a statement in which he acknowledged the theft.

"I might say that the boy was very truthful," stated the officer.

"How long has he been working for you?" his worship asked the proprietor.

"Since some time last fall," was the reply. "He is a good worker and I am prepared to keep him in my employ. I never had trouble with him before."

"Because your employer wishes to keep you on as his employee and because of your youth and it being your first offence, I am going to put you on probation for one year," Magistrate McIlveen told the youth. "But you'll have to make restitution. Pay three dollars a week out of your pay and also pay costs amounting to $13. There is no reason why the county should pay the costs of this prosecution."

"I think this is just a case of a mistake in judgment," Magistrate McIlveen stated when referring to the case of Charles Powell, New-tonbrook, whom he found guilty of a charge of "driving without due care and attention" and fined $10 and costs of $6.60.

According to Jack de Estrada, Toronto, he had been driving north on Yonge St. at 2 a.m. on June 6, when, in the vicinity of Thornhill, an approaching car came into head-on collision with his car, causing damage of between $300 and $400 to his car. He said that he received bruises on his head and knees and that another passenger in his car had received severe injuries and was under a doctor's care.

Provincial Constable Alex. Ferguson testified that he found the defendant's car facing east, with its front almost on the east shoulder of the road. He stated that the car was badly damaged and estimated the damage to be in the vicinity of $250. He added that de Estrada car, which he found facing north, was damaged to the extent of $330 or more.

The officer said that the impact had taken place six feet, six inches from the east edge of the pavement of a 20-foot road.

In his defence Mr. Powell told his worship that he had been driving over the brow of a hill when another car, with a trailer attached, crowded him. He said that he tried to avoid hitting this car and in so doing lost control of his car and went head-on into the de Estrada car.

He said that he was familiar with the road having driven a transport over it for ten years.

His worship advised that the settlement of damages to the cars would have to be taken to a civil court.

There were 23 speeding cases presented in court on Tuesday.

Motorists timed by Constable Ferguson exceeding the speed limit on Yonge St. were: Gerald Beam, Orillia, fined $25 and costs for travelling 55 miles an hour; Ben G.
Mitchell and Alexander Hope, both of Toronto, each fined $15 and costs for travelling over 45 miles an hour.

Hamblin Metcalfe Ltd., Kitchener, whose car was timed by Constable Kenneth Mount in Newmarket, was fined $6 and costs.

Fifteen dollars and costs were the fines imposed on each of the following motorists timed by Constable George Foster in Georgina township: C. MacDonald, Pickering;
John M. Rae, Goodwood; Stewart
McIntyre, Cannington; and H. H.
Bronston, Toronto.

The following motorists, clocked
by County Constable Ronald Watt in East Gwillimbury, were each fined $15 and costs for travelling 45 m.p.h. or over: Dominion Appraisal
Co. Ltd., Andrew Blain, May Peterson and Harold Valler, all of Toronto.

George L. Vivian, Toronto, who was timed by Constable Watt, exceeding 40 miles an hour, was fined $10 and costs.

Charles J. Keller, Toronto, was fined $25 and costs for travelling at 58 miles an hour in East Gwillimbury. Constable Joseph Jardine laid the charge.

Gregg Hickey, Toronto, who was timed travelling at 43 miles an hour in North Gwillimbury by County
Constable William Hill, was fined $10 and costs.

DEANERY CONFERENCE HELD IN NEWMARKET

The 24th annual conference of the Women's Auxiliary of the deanery of West York was held in St. Paul's Anglican church, Newmarket, last Thursday, combined with the quarterly meeting of the clergy of the rural deanery, which met in the rectory. There was a celebration of Holy Communion at 10 a.m. Rev. G. H. Johnson was assisted by the rural dean, Rev. T. B. Butler of St. Philip's church, Weston, and Rev. H. G. Blake of Trinity church, Bradford, who also gave the address.

Rev. H. G. Watts, field secretary of the missionary society to the church in Canada, gave an address before lunch and Mrs. C. O. Lucas, dominion Dorcas secretary, gave an address in the afternoon.

There was a splendid attendance, and during the lunch hour many W.A. friends renewed acquaintance. The visiting branches enjoyed the pleasant scenery around St. Paul's and walked in the park while waiting for time for the meeting. Next year's conference will be held in Trinity church, Thornhill. Mrs. Austin Haines, Sharon, was again elected deanery officer and Mrs. Norman Macleod, Newmarket, deanery secretary.

Pioneer Construction And Railroad Man Dies

The death occurred on Saturday of William Edward Richardson in his 79th year.

Mr. Richardson was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Richardson and a grandson of a British army officer who settled here in 1805 and later fought at Waterloo in 1815.

Mr. Richardson assisted in building the Glenora-Lake Leslin railroad in the Yukon in 1898, and also the Holt and Lukes railroad construction company in Quebec. He built the first office of the Office Specialty Manufacturing Co., Limited, and three years later the large addition to the company plant. He was contractor for the Stuart Scott public school, and he constructed over 75 houses in Newmarket.

In 1900 he married the former Florence Rogers, who survives. Also surviving are two adopted daughters, Miss Helen Richardson, and Mrs. Harry Stephens of Detroit. Mr. Richardson attended Trinity United church.

Rev. Henry Cotton conducted the service at the chapel of Roadhouse and Rose on Tuesday afternoon. Interment was made in Newmarket cemetery.

KESWICK Tells Of Experiences In French Indo-China

The W.M.S. of Keswick United church brought its winter season to a happy conclusion, one long to be remembered, when on Thursday, June 10, a well attended meeting was held at the manse, followed by a tea for funds for the expense department of the society.

The president, Mrs. W. E. Morton, was assisted during the worship service by Mrs. William Pollard and Miss Joy Marritt. Miss Gilroy was pianist for the afternoon. Mrs. Perry Winch gave a brief report on temperance. Others assisting were Mrs. Frank Marritt and Mrs. Geo. White.

Mrs. A. L. Whipple, always a welcome soloist in Keswick, sang with great expression, accompanying herself on the accordion. The guest speaker of the afternoon, Mrs. Walton Whipple of Indiana, U.S.A., who, with her husband, labored as a missionary in French Indo-China, returning home when that country was taken over by the Japanese, addressed the gathering with words which vividly described some of the outstanding events of their trying trip home as well as experiences at the mission post.

Mrs. Whipple's audience listened attentively as she brought to them in stirring words, the realization of what the missionaries in far-flung lands have undergone during these war days. Many queries were explained, which added to a highly instructive afternoon.

It was decided to hold a party on the church lawn the second Thursday in July for the members of the Babies' band, their mothers and friends. Mrs. Leslie Morton is superintendent of the Babies' band.

At the conclusion of the meeting there followed a pleasant social hour. Mrs. Jas. Cole and Mrs. O. M. King poured tea at the attractively arranged tea table. Mrs. Gordon Lapp graciously welcomed the guests. Miss Eva Gilroy and Mrs. John Hopkins were in charge of arrangements, and were assisted by Mrs. Wm. Vail, and Misses Phyllis Rye, Isabel Walker, Lillian and Patti Connell, Joy Marritt and Roslyn VanNorman. Mrs. Baines, whose department sponsored the event, was unable to be present owing to illness.

Mrs. John H. Prosser, grandmother of Rev. Walton Whipple, and Mrs. Lapp of Brighton, Rev. Gordon Lapp's mother, were guests especially welcomed. Heartily votes of thanks were expressed to Mrs. W. Whipple, Mrs. A. L. Whipple and Mrs. Gordon Lapp.

Clean up the goods that you have forgotten about."

He told of a merchant who attended a wartime prices and trade board meeting recently and had since "salvaged" $1,100 from goods that he didn't know he had, and that he had another $1,100 still to salvage.

"Reduce or eliminate credit. Don't sell more goods than you can buy. Keep within your quota. If you can sell your quota in four hours a day, don't keep open longer."

"If you say definitely no credit, don't be afraid of one customer being annoyed. There are ten behind him with cash in their pockets."

"Store hours should be reduced. The farmer has always been the 'bugbear.' Mr. Farmer would have to change his habits. Instead of going to the picture show, and then doing his shopping at five minutes to 12, he will shop and then go to the picture show. And merchants will have the time that is rightfully theirs."

"If you haven't a retail merchants' association in this community, I suggest that immediately you get together. You can't get a solution to these wartime problems without being organized."

A merchants' organization should get together and then publicize their aims. For instance, Mr. MacLeod said, "there is no need to wait until Saturday for bargains. There are just as good bargains on any other day, Monday to Friday."

Mr. Bowser welcomed the Aurora merchants present. There used to be less good feeling between the towns, he said, but now "we begin to like Aurora merchants. I believe, begin to like us."

Mr. Bowser called on Councilor A. N. Fisher, Aurora, a former president of the Aurora board of trade.

"I am sorry to say that we are not as active in our retail branch as we should be," said Mr. Fisher. "We have called meetings to discuss subjects of interest to the merchants but only a few would turn up, and a few can't swing the whole thing. Our board of trade is active but not in the retail branch."

Efforts made by merchants to organize in various communities "across the country are very encouraging," said Mr. MacLeod. "You have no idea how much good you will get out of sitting down together."

Mr. Bowser asked why the day for ration coupons to become due had been changed from Saturdays to Thursdays.

It was done on the request of the Retail Merchants' Association," said Mr. MacLeod. "They are really doing a job. We are seeking their advice all the time."

H. J. Luck asked why a butcher doing less business than $5,000 a month should not be allowed to deposit his coupons in the bank and draw cheques on them, and to save worry and work, as merchants with a larger business do, and other questions pertaining to the meat business.

R. J. Staples, former president of the Toronto Retail Meat Dealers' Association, now with the board, attempted to answer Mr. Luck's questions. Mr. Staples took the occasion to stress the importance of "the unity of retail merchants."

Following the meeting Newmarket merchants reorganized the Newmarket board of trade with the following officers: president, Alex. Eves; 1st vice-president, R. C. Morrison; 2nd vice-president, Max Smith; secretary, H. M. Hooker; treasurer, Harold Patterson. The Newmarket merchants decided to hold a meeting in the council chamber next Tuesday evening.

"C. G. Wainman has 12 years perfect attendance. H. J. Luck is a good third with ten years. Frank Bowser has seven."

Mr. Malcolm called upon the following other members to receive 100 percent awards: Chester Best, W. M. Cockburn, Frank Courtney, T. F. Doyle, Alex. Eves, W. J. Geer, H. E. Gilroy, Victor Giovannelli, Ross Howlett, F. A. Lundy, N. L. Mathews, Stephen Rose, T. B. Scott, F. S. Thompson, Wm. White and Arthur Evans.

International Counsellor Chas. Lennox, Lake Shore Lions club, New Toronto, installed the officers for the coming year: president, Fred Thompson; 1st vice-president, H. E. Gilroy; 2nd vice-pres., W. J. Geer; secretary, T. F. Doyle; treasurer, Frank Courtney; auditor, Alex. Eves; Lion tamer, Kenneth Bennington; directors, Alex. Belugin, N. L. Mathews, Chester Best, C. G. Wainman.

"Thank you for the honor and privilege of being president," said the new "Lion chief," Fred Thompson. Mr. Thompson commented that his predecessor, Mr. Bowser, worked "14 hours a day, is a member of the town council and the fire brigade and is into almost every town activity. After he gets that all done, the rest of the day is his."

"We are proud if we have made the town just a little bit better place to live," said Mr. Thompson. "We estimate that the Air Cadets will cost us just $1,000 over and above our expenditures last year," said International Counsellor H. E. Lambert.

"It is a great pleasure on behalf of the municipal council and the citizens to express appreciation to the Lions club for its very progressive achievements over many years," said Mayor Dr. L. W. Dales.

"I do not doubt but what under the new social security legislation there will still be room for an organization that seeks out those who have physical defects to be remedied," Dr. Dales said.

"You have a park. There is another thing that is important. Every Canadian should learn to swim. That brings us to a swimming pool in the town of Newmarket. Our youngsters swim in the thickest water. I think that it is pretty nearly time that it was put on the agenda of the council or the Lions club. If it is put on the agenda of the council probably it had better be put on the agenda of the Lions club, and perhaps you wouldn't have so many sick kids to look after or so many tonsils to take out."

"People do appreciate the Lions club," said the mayor. "The town needs a group of public-spirited men who care about the unfortunate youngsters of the town. We wish you good success."

Mayor M. M. Young, commanding officer of Newmarket training centre, brought greetings. Mr. Bowser tendered a "heartfelt vote of thanks to Joe McCulley and his sister, Mrs. Buckley," for making possible the dinner at Pickering College.

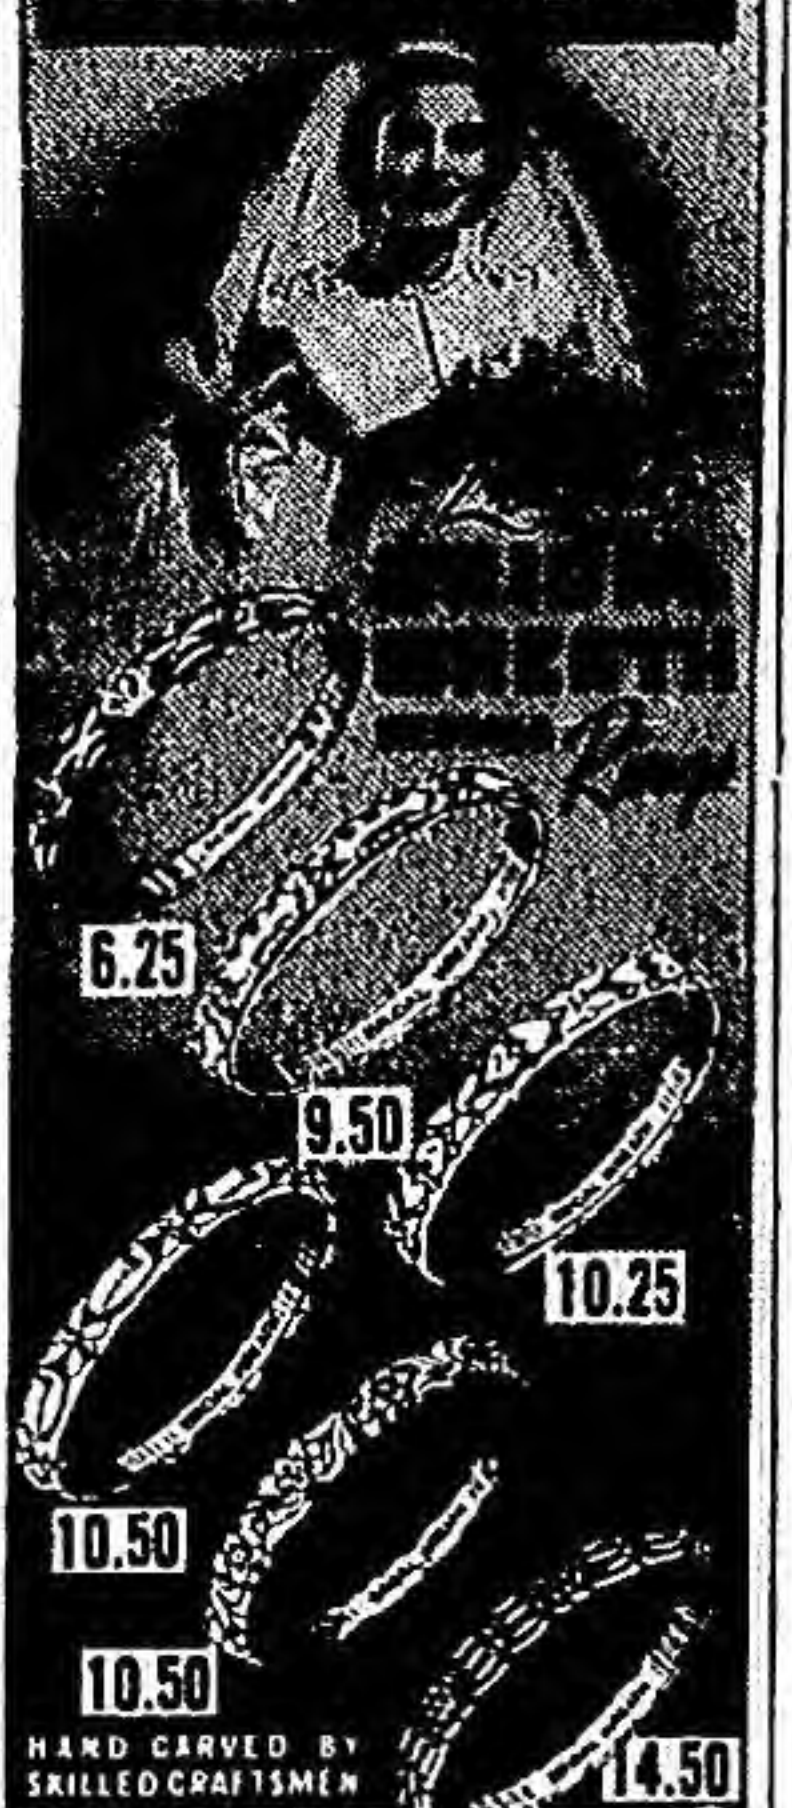

"Sometimes it may seem that we at the college are more or less by ourselves," said Mr. McCulley. "By the nature of our job it is often not possible to co-operate as much as we would like in town projects. If we have facilities that at any time may be of use to you or other organizations we will be glad to help."

Deputy District Governor W. M. Cockburn presented a bouquet to Mrs. Malcolm. Other head-table guests were Mrs. N. M. Young, Mrs. L. W. Dales, Mrs. F. S. Thompson, Mrs. W. M. Cockburn and Mrs. Frank Bowser.

Your Income Tax....

MINISTER OF NATIONAL REVENUE
CANADA

FELLOW CANADIAN

I would like to remind the two million taxpayers of Canada of their obligation to file a 1942 Income Tax Return before the 30th of June.

This year, the forms have been simplified so that they can be completed with a minimum of time and effort.

The Income Tax dollars that Canadians pay are necessary in our present struggle. They are an investment in our future peace and security. They are fighting dollars.... Victory, dollars.

Income Tax is fair to all, as each person is taxed in accordance with his ability to pay.

There is no easy way to win a war. Almost half the costs of this war must be paid by taxes. I know that the Income Tax is not a pleasant burden, but I also know that to win the war, Canadians are willing to fulfil their obligations.... to pay the price and to shoulder their responsibilities with the same unbeatable spirit as shown by those who have gone from our shores to fight.

Colin Clark
Minister of National Revenue.
